

The Select Pick

Houston native interior designer Stacy Graubart started coming to Round Top 20 years ago, first as a collector and now as a vendor and buyer for her clients.

“Round Top during the spring and fall shows is like no place else in the country. People are friendly and excited and you can really thrive off the energy. It is always fun shopping new products, learning the history of pieces, and seeing new trends,” Stacy says.

“We have been busy all summer curating new small pieces for the fall show. I love traveling and searching for items that aren't accessible everywhere else. I enjoy meeting vendors that people aren't familiar with and finding one-of-a-kind unique and antique items.”

As for what makes Market Hill so special, Stacy says, “The Market Hill experience is unique in that people come from all over the world to one destination, where they can find special pieces of furniture, accessories, fixtures, and homegoods at various price points. Market Hill's kitchen not only has great food, but invites people to sit down and relax, eat, drink, and be merry into the late-night hours.

“Our favorite part of the show is seeing old friends and making new ones.” ■
