

this photo: You won't find draperies or rugs in the master bedroom, but it's still cozy thanks to a tall upholstered headboard and plush bed linens. A one-of-a-kind nightstand crafted from driftwood adds organic texture to the space. opposite: Large concrete pavers, in a trio of cool-tone stains, make for an artful but utilitarian anchor to the master bathroom. Above, a floating vanity and metal mirrors complement the industrial vibe.

farmmade modern

lesson
number

1

Painted white shiplap wall paneling brings depth and texture to rustic white and feature to focus while still maintaining the home's modern, clean-lined aesthetic.

